Temple Beth Zion - Beth Israel

300 South 18th Street

Philadelphia, PA 19103

Our life exhibits one superb design
That links our destiny to the Divine.
To practice the good-will which we profess,
To use God's gifts for human benefit.
To love the true and fair, which make men fit
For peaceful ways and lasting happiness.

- Solomon Foster

Beth Zion-Beth Israel recalls in loving memory

May their memories be for a blessing

*He who honors the Torah
Will himself be honored by all men.*

*What course shall a man pursue in life?
That which does honor to his Maker,
And brings him esteem from his fellowmen.
-Pirke Avot*

GRATITUDE EVEN IN GRIEF

It is not God's role to spare us suffering, but to help us bear it. When the visitation we dread finds us, we do well to ask for the strength which will uphold us, for the insight which will reveal new wisdom to us, for the special power which will transform our suffering into a source of blessing. And to such a prayer there is always an answer. .

Something precious has been taken from us, and we think of it as something we have lost, instead of something we have had. We sense only how empty our lives are now; we forget how full they were before; we forget the many days and years we shared.

We praise God for our treasures while we have them. Shall we cease to praise God when they are gone? But God never gives; God only lends. What is life itself but a loan? "Everything," said the Sages, "is given in pledge."

Let us consider the days which have passed not as loss, but as gain - the gain which comes with new courage, with nobler tasks, with a wider outlook on life, with a greater awareness of life's duties and possibilities.

Morris Joseph (adapted)

In the rising of the sun and in its going down,
we remember them.
In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.
In the opening of buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.
In the blueness of the sky and in the warmth of summer,
we remember them.
In the rustling of leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.
In the beginning of the year and when it ends,
we remember them.
When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them.
When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them.
When we have joys we yearn to share,
we remember them
So long as we live, they too shall live,
for they are now a part of us,
as we remember them.
